

CLARK COUNTY STOCK FAIR

[Correspondence of the Louisville Courier.]
The Fair Grounds—A Stock Exhibition—Outside Shows—The Accommodations—The Premiums—Soiree Dansante—Accident.
 WINCHESTER, Aug. 31, 1858.

By little village at 2 o'clock this morning, and after a hearty breakfast at Mr. Lincoln's "National Hotel," we started for the fair grounds, about one mile from Winchester—most lovely sight my eyes feasted upon—beams of woods, well arranged fire, hale men, and bright eyes forming the acquaintance of the president, Mr. Wm. R. Duncan, I was introduced to Mr. Winn, the secretary, who provided me with pleasant quarters in the reporters' room.

The Clarke County Stock Fair is no great place—few show horses, quilts, and big-headed cabbage heads. The directors of the fair, however, in their exhibition, literally, their aim being the improvement of horses, cattle, sheep, and hogs; and I must admit a fine exhibition will not be seen at any fair in Kentucky.

The (Saturday) is lovely—the weather cool and pleasant. The number in attendance is considerably very large. All seem to enjoy themselves to the utmost. Every kind of side show is here—hawk and scalp, down to the "Texas Dwarf"—a little Mike, who has barried two husbands, hand saws, and a "Middy" who has been in the fair for years and intrigues. A red checked dame is displaying her exhibition at one dollar a chance, she considered the fair.

The accommodations at the fair, for strangers is excellent. I am in a room at the Winchester Hotel.

President, editors, and managers have large villas and cottages, situated up in real hotel style where all are invited to partake, free of charge.—
Your correspondent, who took dinner in the
Mr. Wm. K. Duncan's tent, for which he begs to offer Minter's celebrated band discoursed most bewitching music between the acts, and added greatly to the enlivening of the occasion.

comple exhibited—the faux display in the world. After the premium and certificate were awarded, the exhibitor, Mr. Wm. K. Duncan, was seated in a tighter place." The awards were given with universal satisfaction.
of A. H. Buckner, Esq.,
and Mr. Flanagan, editor of the Winchester Chronicle, I obtained the following list of premiums awarded to me:

In the evening a soiree dante came off at the Xanthopoulos house in magnificent style by the landlord, Mr. W. W. Lindsey, who has a special notice for his many attentions to all who come under his charge. Mr. Lindsey's house is a charming place, where every care is given to the comfort of guests. The music was good, the dancing excellent, the ladies beautiful, and the men

There were in attendance at the fair, about four thousand persons, and only one accident. In taking the fair, the negroes were not allowed to enter, and, truly, and batted the negro in attendance against a tree, injuring him internally very severely.

Yours, etc., CORPORA.

POLICE COURT.

Geo. W. JOHNSON, Judge.

THURSDAY, September 2.

Peace warrant.—Elizabeth Smith, was up on a peace warrant by Nancy Means, an old woman who says she commenced on her daughter, and then started to burn her. Her husband, a defendant stated that the allegations are false, especially to burn the house, as complainant has no house to burn. The court was satisfied that defendant had abused complainant a terrible rant, and said she would burn down the old shanty.—The Smith is rather a hard case, as her own tongue required for three months.

The House Taster.—The chap who is accused of strolling about the streets, sampling him for the lusciousness of the food he is eating, was taken before a magistrate this morning by Watchman Tiller, for examination.

John McKinney.—This fellow, who was presented the other day, and a partial examination made, on an alleged charge of rape, was taken before the magistrate for further investigation. The girl, or woman, who was the victim of his attentions, lives in a residence in Indiana, near New Albany, and made her statement before the other day, which it appeared she had been told by a resident of this city, who had been taught the millinery trade. She was decreed that that, and, it appears, was betrayed by her own confession, that she was a resident of this city, but couldn't find 'em, and the case was again continued, until to-morrow.

THE MASTERS OF TRIPLING WITH DISEASES.—There are thousands of these who are the cause of thousands of lunatics at large. In the State of Indiana, there are about 100,000 of these, and it shows more solicitude to keep his house in it, essentially mad, without seeming so. Besides, there is no excuse for remaining sick, when the cure is so simple, and the cure is to be reached by every valetudinarian. The great apostle Halloway, vintnering the resources of his humanity, has sought, fused, combined, and applied the antidotes to every disorder which could befall man, and he has done so, whether or without his. Two world-celebrated remedies are achieving, in all regions and climates and in all seasons, the most brilliant and the most signal triumphs. Bulletins of Halloway's victories appear in every public journal that issues from the press, and are read by the millions. The press, and the press is the most powerful of all, are completely won by his Pills and Ointments, and the people are won by the same. They are published annually in Europe and in this country. No longer are mineral poisons ascribed to the cure of disease, nor is the practice of physic. The two medicinal wonders of the nineteenth century have superseded them.

complainingly. Diffidence, perhaps, prevents them from applying to a physician; or if they do seek medical aid, it is to no purpose. But in the lowly remedies, they have a sure means of relief, and in the accompanying directions and advice, a chart that, if implicitly followed, will guide them to recovered health and cheerfulness.—Hon. Journal.

Reading Matter on every page.

Democratic Meeting.

The Democratic Association of the First and Second Wards will meet on Friday night at Schindler's Exchange, on Jefferson, between Hancock and Clay streets. A general attendance is requested.

The Bowdoin of Broadway.—The Journal is lame in its notice of the Higdon-Higdon contract. It wholly omits the most important word in the story concerning the unlawful manner in which the contract was made. Higdon's work is extolled, and the Courier, (good authority, it must be confessed,) is referred to as having complimented that contractor. But why did not the Mayor award the contract to Higdon?

It is all very well to say that no one but Higdon could build a street. As good work has been done by other contractors, and these contractors were ready to propose for the improvement of Broadway. They would have gladly performed the contract at one-half the price that Higdon is paid. And yet several thousand dollars were to be squandered for an unobtainable purpose other than the reward of a partisan, one of whose deeds was assisting in the Black Republicanism of Crittenden at Cincinnati.

The Journal's allusion to our ignorance of city affairs is the more laughable since it exposes its own ignorance in the most palpable manner. It says that Broadway was howled in 1853 by a Democratic council. This is a statement characterized by either the editor's want of knowledge concerning home matters, or his usual recklessness of statement—perhaps by both. There never was a Democratic council (elected as such) in power in Louisville.

Northwestern case, politics and party into our city elections. The men were chosen to office, regardless of their party affiliations. In fact, the council elected in 1853, which the Journal styles Democratic, so far from being of that complexion, was just the reverse. There were only two gentlemen members of the council who were Democrats; the remainder were Whigs.

But this is not the question at issue. We wish to know, and the public wish to know, in demanding why Mayor Riley disregarded custom and law in awarding the contract to Higdon, and why four thousand dollars of the people's money is to be wasted?

Opera.—"The Crown Diamonds" was produced last night in a very praiseworthy manner. Both Miss Durand and Miss Johnson were in fine voice, and rendered their parts with more than usual spirit. In the variations during the second act Miss Durand took the audience completely by surprise by her powerful and sweet melody of voice. Miss Johnson sang "O whisper what thou feelest," with that depth of pathos for which she is so remarkable. It received an encore, as did also Miss Durand's variations. In both of their characters last night these ladies reached the same of operatic acting, Miss King, had opportunities of displaying her power, though her part was limited. Mr. Trevor Rogers, "Day and Night I thought of thee," was well sung and did credit to his powers.

Miss Hudson takes her benefit to-night in the beautiful opera of "Il Trovatore." She will draw a full house, doubtless, as it is one of her best efforts.

A Man Shot by His Mistress.—Geo. Devlin, of the firm of Devlin & Co., Cincinnati, was shot in that city by a woman named Fanny French, on Wednesday night. The woman had been his mistress. He grew tired of her, and she, in turn, grew tired of him. When she learned that he was about to marry another woman, she determined to kill him. She did so, and he died.

The Great Chess Contest in England.—Up to the last accounts in the great chess contest Morphy had won two games to one. The American has but two more games to win.

Ex-Gov. Powell, U. S. Senator elect, from Kentucky, arrived in this city yesterday. He came from Washington via Frankfort. The Governor is enjoying perfect health.

Death of an Old Race Rider.—P. S. Fowler, alias "Monk," a famous race rider, died of consumption at Bailey Springs, Tenn., last week.

Dr. Bluffard A. Prowitt, formerly of Georgetown, Ky., died of yellow fever in New Orleans, recently. His brother, Henry, was lost by the calamity on Last Island, two years since.

We have seen some beautiful specimens of Grand American raised on the place of Geo. E. Heinsch, Esq., near the city. This is one of the very finest varieties of this delicious fruit.

The editor of an Indiana paper complains of not being invited to the Harris' gallery. Let him go to Harris' gallery. Harris will make him miss.

Peaches are tolerably abundant in our markets, but they sell at a high figure—the largest and best varieties reaching $4 to $5 per bushel.

Wine shot and killed Robert Wade, on Monday last, near the mouth of Tate's creek, Madison county, Ky.

There was a light frost in Mason county on Monday night, not sufficient, however, to do any damage.

Five or six cases of yellow fever have occurred in New York city, some of which terminated fatally.

The New York Traversers celebrated their eighth anniversary last night on Monday. It was not equal to those of former years.

Rev. Mr. Reed, of the Indiana Conference, will preach at the Eighth street Methodist Church, this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. H. M. Stephens, the authoress, died in East Hampton, Me., last week, of consumption.

The Democratic majority is 58, on joint ballot, in the North Carolina Legislature.

The Territorial legislative election in Nebraska has gone in favor of the Democrats.

A gentleman living in Philadelphia, says: "I am passing through Pittsburgh, some months since, I purchased a bottle of Barkley's Holland Balm. It relieved me so much, that on returning home I bought more bottles from Dr. Drott, which completely cured me of my ailment. I have recommended the article to many of my friends, and four or five of the number say it cured them. I think that my recommendation has done more for its sale in Philadelphia than any other agent."

We are not permitted to publish the name, but any person calling at the store, or communicating with us by letter, will be convinced of the truth of this statement.

Portland, in place of Theodore Penny, resigned.

REVIEWS.

The summer birds are winging their flight homeward from the various watering places. Last evening the Nashville train brought in a half hundred persons from the Cave and Grayson. Judging from the immense piles of baggage accompanying the lady passengers we surmise that they were not in the condition of Miss Flora McFlintsey, with "nothing to wear."

At noon, yesterday, the city was shrouded in gloom by the disastrous masses of clouds. A heavy storm continued for some time, and last night we were enjoying a September drizzle.

Bulwer in his last novel has charmingly and truthfully apostrophized the pleasures of smoking. When coining his golden words of eulogy he must have been luxuriating in a cigar, such as our friend Diller has just received from the gen of our Antilles. He yesterday sent in such an invoice of the very choicest Havanas, which may be procured at wholesale or retail on Third street, near Market.

We saw yesterday quite a novelty in the shape of a gun cane. It was a perfect gun barrel, with lock, trigger, sight, and all necessary accoutrements, but having every appearance of a gentleman's cane. It is the invention of a German, and a capital thing for bird shooting. Warranted also to kill rabbits at the distance of forty yards.

Can opera goers never learn manners? Do they attend the play house to chatter and gabble, or in order to witness the performances? These are queries to which no one deserves more attention in our city. Night after night at our theater there is a constant buzz over the house, interfering materially with those who attend through proper motives. A place for public amusement, let it be known, is no place for coquetting and coyness.

The Oakland Race.—The race between Capt. Travis' bay John and George's Sleazy Dary, on the Oakland Course, was postponed yesterday, on account of the unfavorable condition of the day. The match was made for a fair day and fair track. If to-day is fair the race will come off at 4 o'clock this afternoon; if not fair it will come off the first fair day succeeding.

Capt. Travis is for the present the proprietor of the Oakland Course. He will, no doubt, afford his sporting friends as much amusement as they desire, so long as he is proprietor. He is emphatically a sporting man, and knows how to please others as well as to enjoy himself.

Notice to CONSUMPTIVE INVALIDS, and all those who suffer with diseases of the Throat and Lungs.—We are requested to say, that owing to the number of invalids who have written to Dr. Flower, and are on their way to this city in order to consult him, and owing to unavoidable business calling him elsewhere, he can prolong his stay in Louisville till the 7th day of September only, until which time he offers consultation free of charge to all, at his office, on the corner of Center and Green streets.

Messrs. J. L. Deppen & Co. are receiving their fall and winter stock of clothing and furnishing goods, at the Mammoth Clothing Depot, between Second and Third streets. They are noted for keeping good goods and selling at low prices, and we advise those who wish to procure an elegant outfit at a comparatively small outlay, to drop in at the Mammoth.

Looking Glasses, etc.—Mr. U. B. Evans, whose spacious and handsome store is on Main street between Second and Third, is now receiving his fall stock of looking glasses, par hangings, pictures, frames, engravings, etc., and will sell on terms that cannot fail to prove satisfactory to his customers. His assortment of goods is certainly very large, complete, and desirable.

FRESH BALTIMORE OYSTERS.—McLaughlin, the oyster dealer, on Third street, No. 62, between Main and Market, is now receiving daily, by that never-failing and reliable express, Adams & Co.'s, fresh oysters from Baltimore, as fat and fine as we have ever seen. These supplies are only 24 hours old, and those who desire this kind of delicacy, will find our remarks up to the mark by giving him a call.

CORRECTION.—We published yesterday the marriage of Richard Kilton to Mrs. Lucy Moody, at Pleasantville. There was no such marriage, and we were imposed upon by some designing scoundrel. We hope the rascal will be discovered and properly punished, but it would be hard to say what punishment would be enough for him to expiate the offense.

CHILLS AND FEVER.—It is useless to recall to our minds the symptoms of this terrible disease, too well known to its numerous sufferers through out the South and West. Suffice it to say, the only permanent and safe remedy yet discovered is Farr's Ague Tonic and Quinine Substitute. It cures in every instance.

The Horse Stealing Case.—Samuel Baker, charged with stealing Schaffer's horse, had a partial hearing before Equities Clement and Matlack yesterday. The proof for the Commonwealth was heard, and the case then continued until Saturday, for the accused to produce testimony for defense.

We would remind our readers that Mr. C. C. Spencer sells this morning, at 10 o'clock, a large variety of furniture and house keeping articles, and at 11 o'clock two pianos, guitar, and sewing machine. Persons in want of such articles will do well to attend.

Our country friends know well how to appreciate a good article in domestic manufactures, judging from the unprecedented demand by them for Horley's quick yeast.

LATER FOREIGN NEWS.—Our dispatches this morning furnish very interesting details of foreign news.

The Great Chess Contest in England.—Up to the last accounts in the great chess contest Morphy had won two games to one. The American has but two more games to win.
